Selected Poetry.

THE FIRST SNOW-FALL.

The snow had begun in the gloaming,
And busily, all the night,
Had been heaping field and highway
With a silence deep and white.

Every pine and fir and hemlock
Wore ermine too dear for an earl,
And the poorest twig on the elm tree
Was ridged inch deep with pearl.

From sheds new-roofed with Carrara
Came Chanticleer's muffled crow;
The stiff rails were softened to swans' down,
And still wavered down the snow.

I stood and watched from the window
The noiseless work of the sky,
And the sudden flurries of snow birds,
Like brown leaves whirling by.

I thought of a mound in sweet Auburn,
Where a little head-stone stood;
How the flakes were folding it gently,
As did robbins the Babes of the Wood.

Up spoke our own little Mabel,
Saying, "Father, who makes the snow?"
And I told of the good All-Father
Who cares for us here below.

Again I looked at the snow-fall,
And thought of the leaden sky
That arched o'er our first great sorrow
When that mound was heaped so high.

I remembered the gradual patience
That fell from the cloud-like snow,
Flake by flake, healing and hiding
The scars of our buried woe.

Then with eyes that saw not I kissed her,
And she, kissing back, could not know
That my kiss was given to her sister,
Folded close under deepening snow.

Agricultural & Domestic.

EXHAUSTION OF SOIL.

The exhaustion of the soil consequent upon the system of agriculture pursued by our farmers is awakening public notice and challenging the attention of some of the most observant men in the country. Professor Henry, the Secretary of the Smithsonian Institute, has expressed the opinion that there was "more wealth invested in our soil in fertilizing matter at the moment this continent was discovered by Columbus, than there is at present above the surface, in improvements and all other investments. The fertility which ages had accumulated upon its surface, has been the capital upon which the farmer has been drawing with reckless prodigality from the first settlement of the country." And in a speech delivered in the House of Representatives in 1858, by Hon. J. E. Morrill, we find the following remarks upon the same subject:

By the system of husbandry generally pursued here, the land is tilled until it is robbed of its virtue, skimmed of its cream, and then the owner selling his field to some skinflint neighbor, flies to fresh fields with the foul purpose to repeat the same spoliation; and this annual exodus which prevails over all the older States, and even begins upon the first settlement of the new States before their remoter borders have lost sight of the savage, painfully indicates that we have reached the maximum of population our land will support in the present state of our agricultural economy.

The results of this exhausting process can be seen by some examples taken from the State of New York and Ohio. In the neighborhood of Albany, in 1775, wheat yielded from twenty to forty bushels per acre, in 1785 from sixteen to twenty bushels, in 1815 from twelve to fifteen bushels; while by the State census of 1845 Albany county gave seven and one-half bushels per acre, Duchess five, Columbia six and Westchester seven. Within fifty years preceding 1860 the average yield of wheat in Ohio had diminished from thirty to less than fifteen bushels per acre. Now the average production is thirteen bushels per acre. The Report of the Ohio State Board of Agriculture shows that the average crop of Indian corn in that State during the five years from 1850 to 1854, both inclusive, was 38.81 bushels per acre; while during the five years from 1854 to 1858, both inclusive, it averaged only 32.95 bushels to the acre. The average for 1862 was lower than ever before, to-wit: 28 96-100 bushels per acre. The State census of Iowa for 1858 shows an average wheat production of only 4.12 bushels per acre for spring and 6.96 for winter—oats 5.40 bushels per acre, and corn 23.40.

The retrograde movement in many of the States from farming to stock raising and dairy operating, is also a significant fact pointing to the effects of the exhausting system of cultivation. In noting this fact the Chicago Times says:

Throughout Northern Illinois the raising of winter wheat is gradually ceasing it has done in Western New York. Farmers find the dangers of its being winter killed or destroyed by the chinch bug, added to the heavy freights and the uncertainty of the markets, so far outweigh the chances of profit, that they are in a measure cut off from their former choice between wheat and stock, and compelled to rely upon stock alone. That wheat is winter killed, as some superficially suppose, in consequence of an increasing average cold in our winter, we do not believe. We doubt whether there is any such increase in the cold of the atmosphere, and if there were, winter wheat does not depend upon the temperature of the atmosphere, but on that of the soil. We think it far more probable that it is winter killed because the soil is growing colder, than from any change in the average temperature of the air. The soil is colder because the ashes which result from the ancient priarie fires, and which in the early cultivation of winter wheat kept the soil warm during the winter, have been exhausted and never replaced. We are strengthened in this view by the fact that lime and ashes are prescribed by agriculturists and found successful as the preventive of winter killing. Whether the spread of the chinch bug is in any way directly or indirectly connected with the weakness or decay in the plant, arising from this change in the soil, we do not attempt to argue. In the present state of universal ignorance and absence of all scientific investigation relative to the growth of this evil, but as every other form of insect, whether midge or other kinds of weevil, hessh fly, wheat fly, &c., down even to blight smut and rust, have been traced to deterioration in certain ingredients of the soil resulting from continual cropping while deterioration gives rise to weakness in the plant which lays it open to these attacks, we may venture to suggest the possibility that even the chinch bug is no exception to the law. For the law under which all these insect evils are benevolently introduced in the divine economy, is that all vegetation which has within itself a deficient supply of vigor and life, shall be eaten up and destroyed by a process more rapid and healthy than that of slow decay.

Either of these theories would imply a partial impoverishment in our soil as the ultimate cause of the abandonment of the winter wheat crop in Northern Illinois, and it will require some argument more weighty than a mere boast of the depth and inexhaustible richness of our prairie loams to meet the case. Whatever may be the cause, the fact remains that many farmers who formerly made more money either by wheat or stock, and more by wheat than by stock, are now compelled to look to stock alone, although stock is no more profitable now than heretofore except relatively to crops. Does this indicate a healthy condition of our agriculture? If so, would not our agriculture be in a still more healthy condition if all the farmers on our prairies should turn shepherds and herdsmen like those of the steppes of South America or the table lands of Mexico? The effect of this would be that we must not only put our soil and labor into cereals, and our cereals into beef, but the quantity of beef would be so vast, and the price so low, that we would, like the Paraguayans and Mexicans, kill them for the hides and tallow.

IS SNOW A FERTILIZER?

"Farmer," of Sullivan Co., N. Y., writes: "I have frequently heard it said that snow is very beneficial to land, and hence it is sometimes called the 'poor man's manure.' Although this is a commonly received opinion, I have hitherto failed to meet with any one who could explain it upon philosophical principles, and have been led to doubt the truth of the assertion. Why is it said to be so?"—Answer.—Snow absorbs from the atmosphere very considerable quantities of ammonia, which is especially abundant in the air near cities, as it is set free from coal and other fuel. It is a warm covering, protecting the plants covered by it, especially such as the grasses and winter grains, from the unfavorable action of frost, for it matters little how deeply the ground is frozen, a good bed of snow lying upon it several weeks will thaw it all, and even permit a growth of grain and grass to take place under it. When it melts, the soil has the benefit of the ammonia, and any fertilizing dust that the snow may have caught, and the snow-water besides contains much oxygen—hence the effects are like those of manure, and the reason for the popular judgment, which is quite right.—Amer. Agricul.

CRIB-BITING.

An "Ex-Officer," who has studied this disease in the army, before he entered it, and since he returned from service, makes some suggestions which, considering the very indefinite views usually held by veterinarians about it, are worthy consideration. We regret he has no experience in regard to a cure. "I have found that authors call this disease an affection of the stomach, or locate it in other places, still more remote from the seat of the complaint. I have taken pains for the last six or seven years, both in the army and while out of it, to look in every horse's mouth that gave the well known intimation of being afflicted with what is generally termed 'cribbing,' or 'wind-sucking,' and I have in no instance failed to find that the gums grow down between the upper teeth—some within a quarter of an inch of the ends of the teeth, others not so far, but all have that characteristic without exception. From this I conclude it is a crowding of the teeth and gums, instead of any intestinal disease. The pain and irritation caused by the pressure, makes the horse press his teeth upon the first horizontal piece of anything he comes in contact with, to obtain relief. The pain he is in, no doubt, causes him to grunt, and the eructation of wind from the stomach is but the effect of having the head and neck in the position he takes. For a cure, I would suggest that keeping the teeth from crowding each other, or the gums, or both, will at once cure the malady."

HAVE YOU PLENTY OF DOOR MATS?

Our observation is, that comparatively few housekeepers appreciate the economy of having plenty of mats at every outside door. The chief wear of carpets comes from sandy or gritty materials brought in on the boots or shoes. Uncarpeted floors are constantly soiled from the same source. Most persons keep but a single mat just inside, or outside of the door. It is far better to have two or three—one coarse, heavy one outside the door, at the bottom of the steps, another just against the door on the outside, and another finer one on the inside. Mats so placed will be a strong hint to careless, slovenly men and boys to wipe their feet clean. The cost is not so much more for three mats thus used, for they will last nearly three times as long as a single one. Each fifty cents invested in mats will usually save ten times the amount in carpets, and in lessening labor and annoyance. Corn husks braided together make good home-made mats. Pieces of old carpets are far better than nothing. A good, cheap mat can be easily made by stitching two pieces of old carpet together and stuffing with a thin layer of hay or straw, knotting it through to keep the filling in place.

COOKING SALSIFY, OR VEGETABLE OYSTER.

We hope many of our readers have a liberal supply of this vegetable, or will have another year. It is grown as easily, and just like carrots or parsnips, and if rightly cooked affords a very agreeable dish, especially as it grows all winter, although we usually take up late in autumn a quantity for winter's use, and pack it in boxes of moist sand in a cool cellar. We clean the roots well, cut in short pieces, boil tender, drain, salt it, add a little salt codfish picked very fine, and butter, thicken with a little flour and milk, and pour it over toast.—C. W. C., Howells, Orange Co., N. Y., writes; Wash and scrape the roots, cut in thin slices, boil in a little water until soft; pour off the water and mash the roots fine. Season with salt, pepper, butter, and a little cream.

SALTING BUTTER.

A New Hampshire correspondent of the Rural New Yorker, gives the following recipe for salting butter: Take two quarts of good salt, one ounce of sugar, one ounce of saltpetre. Use one ounce of the composition for one pound of butter. It should be stamped and left to cool before putting in jars. Butter prepared in this way should not be used for two or three weeks. You will find that your butter will be very fine, as it will have no brittle or salty look or taste. By following this course your butter will keep the year through, in warm as well as cold weather.

Choice Miscellany.

SLEIGH-RIDING WITH A WIDOW.

Snow had fallen, the young folks of the village got up a grand sleighing party on a country tavern at some distance, and the interesting widow Lampkin sat in the same sleigh, under the same buffalo as myself. "Oh, don't," she exclaimed, as we came to the first bridge, catching me by the arm, and turning her veiled face towards me, while her little eyes twinkled through the moonlight. "Don't what?" I asked; "I'm not doing anything." "Well, but I thought you was going to take toll," replied Mrs. Lampkin. "Toll!" I replied, "what's that?" "How!" exclaimed the widow, her clear laugh ringing out above the music of the bells; "Dr. Meadows pretends he don't know what toll is!" "Indeed, I don't then," I said, laughing in turn. "Don't know that the gentlemen, when they go out on a sleighing party, claim a kiss as toll when they cross a bridge?" "Well, I never!" When next we came to a bridge, and I claimed toll, the struggle of the widow to hold the veil was not sufficient to tear it; and, somehow, when the veil was removed, her face was turned directly towards my own, and in the glittering of the moonlight, the horse trotted on himself, and toll was taken for the first time by Dr. Meadows. Soon we came to a long bridge, but the widow said there was no use to resist, and she paid up as we reached it without a struggle. "But you won't take toll for every arch, will you, Doctor?" she asked. To which the only reply was a practical affirmative to the question. Did you ever, reader, sleigh-ride with a widow, and take toll at the bridges?

A COLORED DISCOURSE.

A correspondent of the Knickerbocker, who writes from Mansfield, sends the following "discourse," for the entire authenticity of which he vouches without reserve, having taken it down from the thick lips of the reverend orator himself:

"My text, brethren and sisters, will be found in the fus chapter ob Genesis and twenty-sebenth verse:—'And de Lor' made Adam.' I tell you how he made him. He made him out ob clay, and when he git dry he breathed into him de breff ob life. He put him in de garden ob Eden, and den set him in de corner ob de lot, and he tole him to eat all de apples ceptin' dem in de middle ob de orchard; dem he wanted for de winter apples.

"Byme by, Adam he be lonsom. So de Lor' make him Ebe. I'll tell you how he make her; he gib Adam lodd'ium till he got sound asleep, den he gouged a rib out ob his side and make Ebe; an' he tole her to eat all de apples ceptin' dem in de middle of de orchard; dem he wanted for de winter apples.

"Wun day de Lor' he go a visiting, de debbil he cum along, dressed up in de skin ob de snake, and he fine Ebe, an' he tell her, 'Ebe, why for you no eat de apples in de middle ob de orchard?' Ebe say, 'Dem de Lor's winter apples.' But de debbil says, 'I tell you for to eat dem, ease dey's de best apples in de orchard.' So Ebe eat de apple, an' gib Adam a bite; an' den de debbil, he go away.

"Byme by, de Lor' cum home an' he call Adam. Adam he lay low, so de Lor' call again. 'You Adam!' Adam say, 'Hea, Lor'!' An' de Lor' say, 'Who stole de winter apples?' Adam tole him, 'Don't know—Ebe, I spect.' So de Lor' call Ebe. Ebe lay low; de Lor' call again, 'You Ebe!' Ebe say, 'Hea, Lor'!' De Lor' say, 'Who stole de winter apples?' Ebe tole him, 'Don't know—Adam she spect.' So de Lor' cotch 'em boff, an' trow dem ober de fence, an' tole dem, 'Go, work for your libben.'"

☞ A little chap who had, among other Christmas presents, a "mechanical box," in which two "colored pussons" were intended to dance, on being "wound up," found it would not work, and appealed to an older brother to "fix it." Jack looked at it, and immediately exclaimed, "why! they can't be fixed so as to 'work,' Bob! They are free, you know!"

☞ "What do you know of the defendant, Mr. Thompson?" Do you consider him a good musician?" "On that point I wish to swear with great care. I do not wish to insinuate that Mr. Vanslopes is not a good musician. Not at all. But I could not help observing—people will observe queer things at times—that after he commenced playing on the clarionet a saw-filer who lived next door left home and has never since been heard of."

☞ Old grave-stones sometimes tell the truth. Here is a good specimen of an old time New England epitaph, which may be read in a grave-yard at South Dedham, Massachusetts:

"Many a man for love of pelf,
To stuff his coffers, starves himself;
Labors, accumulates, and spares,
To lay up ruin for his heirs;
Grudges the poor their scanty dole;
Saves everything—except his soul!"

☞ A Chinese widow, fanning the tomb of her husband, and being asked the cause of so singular a mode of showing her grief, accounted for it by saying that he had made her promise not to marry again while the mortar of his tomb remained damp; and as it dried but slowly she saw no harm in aiding the operation.

☞ An Irishman took off his coat to show a terrible wound which he had received a few years before. Not being able, however, to find the wound, he suddenly remembered it was on "brother Bill's arm."

☞ Why are young ladies kissing each other like an emblem of Christianity? Because they are doing unto each other as they would men should do unto them.

☞ An exchange says a saving bank in Mobile, established by the negroes, collapsed the other day, in consequence of the depositors withdrawing all the funds to attend a circus.

☞ A six-year old chap in Bethel, Me., being unable to drive his cow out of the barn, set it on fire, and then, he says, "she run."

PARLOR JUGGLERY.

We notice that many of our popular magazines and periodicals are devoting a portion of their space to the science of legerdemain, for the edification of their young readers, and for general home amusement. We don't propose to go behind anything with ink on it, and consequently have prepared a number of tricks which will be found not only entertaining but instructive. In the long autumn and winter evenings they will form a never-failing source of amusement. They are all susceptible of explanation upon natural principles, and no parent can consistently object to them on the ground that "there is suthin' wrong about 'em." These tricks are not only healthy, but are perfectly sure in their results:

The Spittoon Trick.—Take two half-gallon spittoons—white ones are the best—then select a strong red cord—a worsted one, if it can be procured—pass the cord through the two holes of the spittoons and give the ends to a gentleman and lady, selected from the company, to hold. Now let a lady seize the spittoons, and, sliding each to the opposite end of the cord, bring them together smartly, when they will break in pieces and fall to the floor. This trick is easily performed, and will excite considerable applause.

The Magic Stick.—To do this trick properly you will need a pearl-handled knife and a stout hardwood stick, some two inches in length. Sharpen the two ends of the stick and then try to crush it endways, either between your hands or by sitting upon it. This, to your astonishment, you will find impossible to do.

The Flying Hen.—Select a large, well-fed hen—the color is immaterial, though black is best—and place her in a sitting position on some smooth surface. Then over her place a paste-board box, eighteen by thirty inches. Pound smartly upon the top of the box with a bone-handled table knife for three minutes; and then suddenly raise it, when the hen will immediately fly away. This trick can be performed by any person of average intelligence, who gives his whole mind to it.

The Nail Trick.—Take 2 large wrought iron nails, and wire them together in the form of a cross. It will then be found impossible to swallow them. There is no deception about this:

The Cable.—Take a piece of tarred cable, about fifteen inches in length, cut it carefully in two with a sharp knife, and then try and chew the ends together. You can try as long as you like.

The Magic Eggs.—Put twelve fresh eggs carefully into a green worsted bag. Swing the bag rapidly about your head, hitting it each time against the door-post. Then ask the company whether they will have them boiled, scrambled, or fried. It will make no difference which they choose.

The Four Jacks.—Select a pack of cards with plain white backs. Take out the four jacks and burn them before the company, letting them see the ashes. Now shuffle the cards quickly, and, holding them in the left hand, give them a sharp rap with the knuckles of the right. Then place them on the table with the face down, and defy the company to find the jacks. They can't do it.

These are only a few of the tricks in our repertoire, but they will suffice for the present. They are calculated not only to amuse, but to inculcate a love of science among our young friends, and we shall feel amply repaid by their thanks.

LADIES SHOULD READ NEWSPAPERS.

The Albany Times says it is a great mistake in female education to keep a young lady's time and attention devoted to only fashionable literature of the day. If you would qualify her for conversation, you must give her something to talk about, give her education with the actual world and its transpiring events. Urge her to read newspapers and become familiar with the present character and improvement of our race. History is of some importance; but the world is dead, we have nothing to do with it. Our thoughts and concerns should be for the present world, to know what it is and improve its condition. Let her have an intelligent opinion, and be able to sustain intelligent conversation concerning the mental, moral and religious improvement of our times. Let the gilded annuals and poems on the centre table be kept part of the time covered with weekly and daily journals. Let the whole family, men, women and children, read the newspapers.

Sleighing.—The gingle of the merry sleigh bells reminds us of the following extract from a boy's composition or essay on "Sleighing:"

"There ain't much sleigh-riding except in the winter. Folks don't seem to care about it in warm weather. Grown-up boys and girls like to go sleigh-riding—the boys generally drive with one hand and help the girls hold their muffs with the other. Brother Bob let me go along a little way once when he took Celia Ann Crane out sleighing, and I thought he paid more attention to holding the muff than he did to holding the horses."

Salt the Chimney.—In building a chimney put a quantity of salt into the mortar with which the interspaces of brick are to be laid. The effect will be that there will never be any accumulation of soot in the chimney. The philosophy is thus stated: The salt in the portion of mortar which is exposed absorbs moisture every damp day. The soot thus becomes damp and falls down the fire-place. Our readers should remember or preserve this little piece of valuable information.

☞ A poor woman and her little child lately settled in a western city and were greatly reduced and in need of food.—The child seeing a chicken in the back yard, wanted to kill it and have a pot-pie. "No, no," said the mother, "that would be wicked, and God would surely punish you." "Then," said the youngster, looking up, "let's move back to Boston, there ain't any God there."

☞ The Southern darkies held emancipation frolics at Richmond, Charleston, Wilmington and other places, on New Year's day, unmolested by anybody. At Augusta, Georgia, they had a "military" parade, and such a lot of flashy uniforms, of every color, swords, arms and trappings of every sort—warlike and comical—was never before witnessed among the descendants of Ham and hominy.

Miscegenation.—"A good-looking, intelligent, well dressed, tidy and prepossessing white girl," of Ohio, has married a big Sambo, about seven degrees blacker than a bucket of coal tar. Mated doves, "Two souls with but a single thought, Two colors mixed as one."

☞ A singular innovation was made at a funeral in Paris the other day. Instead of laudatory discourses in honor of the individual interred, one of his friends read extracts from a newspaper article in his praise.

☞ An ingenious pickpocket in the West is said to have driven a good business by getting on railroad trains, refusing to pay the fare, and then picking the conductor's pocket while he was putting him out.

SOLILOQUY OF A POOR MECHANIC.

BY "BRICK" POMEROY.

How my head aches!

And I want a little more sleep, but unless I am there when the seven o'clock bell speaks, I am not wanted.

But I'll rest—nap—snooze here as I rest, and waken in a few moments.

That noise in the kitchen?

That is my wife preparing the breakfast. Good woman—she did not go to bed till an hour or more after I did, and she is always up an hour before me. Her work is never done—mine is never done. I hear her step in another room. I hear the dishes as they are placed on the table. This pillow is not so large as some pillows, so I'll double it up and rest my head on it. And this bed is not such as rich people have, but it's good enough for a poor man! The feather bed is thin—the clothes are none too choice, but then we are better off than thousands I know.

Why not have better ones?

Simply because I cannot afford it. Do you see these hands? Do you see the callous palms—the little labor cracks—the half stiffened blunt finger? Well, sir, they are marks of industry. I go to the shop early. I work late. I take my dinner in that little tin pail. I work till my back aches. I save my money. My wife helps me at home—she is prudent, saving, industrious and hopeful. My children are not dressed as well as my neighbor's children are, but they wear the best I can get them.

I have no money for luxuries, my family must live, even if my bed be hard, my pillow small—the feathers few and the bed clothes worn—the floor unecarpeted.

Hard work?

Of course I have work, and I have pay for it. But money does not go so far now as it used to. Two dollars to-day are not as good as one dollar six years ago. My wages go for flour, meat, potatoes, butter when we can afford it, eggs, tea, coffee, sugar, cloth, medicines and taxes.

Why purchase butter, tea, coffee, etc.

Why live? I am tired at night and want something I can relish, and a cup of tea gives me strength and new life. And in the morning, with the labors of the day staring me in the face as they lead me along to the grave, I have but little appetite, a cup of coffee with sugar in it and perhaps an egg on my plate tempts the worn out appetite and I thus gain strength for my toil.

Be more saving.

I am saving. My wife is saving. I have hardly a decent suit of clothes. My wife does not have more than two dresses a year. She mends and turns, and patches and saves, and pieces; and she uses our worn-out garments to make clothes for the children. And we have no luxuries in the pantry or cellar—simply plain food. A dollar does not go far in market now. I do not complain, but do get discouraged at times, and wonder why a poor man was born—what use is there in living? Everything costs so much. Cotton costs five times as much now as six years ago. Woolen goods ditto. Tea, coffee, flour, meat, sugar, rice, butter, eggs, tobacco, spices, medicines, &c., &c., cost from three to five times as much as they once did. And my wages are not increased in proportion. And then the war. All I had saved for years went for war expenses. It was fifty dollars here—fifty dollars there—fifty dollars then—twenty dollars more for the last call—fifty dollars more for the next last call and so on. I had to sell my cow and silver watch to raise bounty money.

Why didn't I enlist?

Why didn't you? Mason, my brother, my cousin enlisted, and they died or came home crippled. I was drafted—I mortgaged my house and lot to raise money to send a man in my place.

What made me?

To save the Union. They told me the South wanted to get out of the Union, and that we must whip them back. I did not quite understand the matter. I wanted the Union restored and I joined with the Republican party. But all this was for nothing. We went to war—we lost half a million of men—we ruined the South so it is worth nothing to the Union—they submitted—we disbanded our armies—the South laid down her arms and has gone to work, and now these same Republicans say the South is out of the Union, and they are going to keep her out, for fear she will vote against them. I can't see what we gained by war. And I find out that the Democrats were right, and that Democratic times were the best for poor people. And the taxes—why I am now taxed—and taxed and taxed? I must support myself—my family—my poor relatives; my crippled relatives who came back from the war—I pay ten times the City, State, town and county taxes I did before—I am taxed to help support free negroes who once worked, as I have to, and support themselves—and, worse than all, I am taxed to pay interest money to rich bondholders, who live in ease, whose hands are soft, who pay no taxes, yet live on what I earn, and what all of us poor men earn. Now what chance has a poor man under such a Republican Government? A chance to work hard and die poor.

THE BLESSINGS OF "FREEDOM."

A friend, (and a decided Republican,) who fought through the war, and is now trying to run a plantation "down in Dixie," complains of the "uncertainty of procuring labor"—that he had "hired seven different gangs since he took the plantation, and could not induce any of them to remain long;" that the last ones he agreed to pay in advance, week to week, as long as they would remain—which was exactly six days, and the last he saw of them, they were marching (Indian file) down the road, singing, "We'll hang Jeff Davis on a sour apple tree," in the full enjoyment of "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." We imagine the feelings of our Republican friend, as he leaned over the palings, and saw his sable friends, "on their winding way," to have been akin to those of Pharaoh, when the children of Israel "took to the water,"—and we don't recollect, at this moment, any one whose faith in "negro equality" deserved a more convincing shock than his. He is now looking for Northern white laborers, satisfied that "the freedmen" will not be ready to go to work during the present century.—New Haven Register.

STEAM REFINED LARD.

It came out in a recent trial at Cincinnati that a most foul and disgusting practice exists among the manufacturers of steam refined lard. In the transportation of droves of hogs, by cars, to large markets, more or less of them, and sometimes many of them, are found to be dead on their arrival. They die from crowding, from disease, from suffocation, from being trampled upon, and from other causes. On their arrival these dead hogs, bruised, trampled upon, diseased and covered with filth, are purchased by manufacturers of steam refined lard. They are taken to the manufactories with others which drop dead in the streets; they are not dressed or cleaned in any manner, but are put whole into immense steam boilers or tanks, and the lard is extracted from them by the power of steam. This process extracts the lard perfectly from all parts of the animal, even from the bones. After sufficient steaming the most beautiful "Pure Steam Refined Lard" is drawn from certain parts of the boiler by means of faucets, while the filth or solid portions sink to the bottom or rise to the top.

☞ A lady seeing a man in the gutter, said she was afraid he was dead. Pat, who had been near enough to smell his breath, exclaimed: "Faith, and I wish I had half his disease."

☞ Hall's Journal of Health says people mustn't "cuddle up" in bed if they would be healthy.

SIMON TRIUMPHS.

The Republican members of the Legislature met in caucus on Thursday evening, for the nomination of a candidate for United States Senator. The "old Winnebago," Simon Cameron, was successful on the first ballot—Cameron 46, Curtin 23, Stevens 7, Grow 5. McConaughy voted for Cameron, notwithstanding the distinct instructions for Curtin by both the counties composing this Senatorial district.

If the election of Simon Cameron "will be a BURNING SHAME to the great State of Pennsylvania and an EVERLASTING DISGRACE to the representatives of the masses of the Republican party," has not McConaughy helped to bring both about?

IMPEACHMENT RESOLUTIONS.

In the House of Representatives, on Monday, Mr. Ashley, of Ohio, (said to be a bitter personal enemy of President Johnson,) introduced resolutions impeaching the President. The resolutions were referred to the Judiciary Committee, with power to send for persons and papers. The New York Times and some other Journals think this reference settles the question for the present session. But the World is inclined to a different view. It thinks the Radicals are in dead earnest, and that the President will be impeached and put on trial. We, of course, have no means of knowing what the upshot of the matter will be; but of this we are certain, that if trouble and convulsion follow—as is more than likely—the Republican leaders will be held responsible to the most full and entire extent. So unprecedented and unjustifiable a proceeding, merely to retain party ascendency, will not be endorsed or excused by the sober sense of the American people.

IMPORTANT FROM WASHINGTON.

The Washington correspondent of the Age, in his letter of Friday, says:—Forney warns his Radical friends, through the columns of the Chronicle, this morning, to lose no time in removing the President from office. He thinks that war is brewing, and unless Congress strikes at once, the Executive and his friends will get control of the situation. It is evident that there is more uneasiness among the Radicals here to-day than there has been at any time during the present Congress. The responses of the Democratic press throughout the country to the impeachment movement, and the firm, unyielding position of the President, convince the shrewd men of the dominant party that they will have no child's play on their hands if they should undertake to carry out the programme adopted by the House on Monday last.

☞On Tuesday last, the 8th of January, the following scene occurred in the national House of Representatives:

Mr. Niblack, of Indiana, moved that, as this was the anniversary of the battle of New Orleans, a day which many on his side regarded as a holiday, the House adjourn. He added that Congress usually adjourned over this anniversary.

Mr. Ashley, of Ohio, remarked that that was played out.

Mr. Finck, of Ohio, called for the yeas and nays, but the House refused to order them.

The Democrats not being able to muster more than thirty-one votes, less than one-fifth of those present, the motion was rejected.

The proposed adjournment for a day was suggested in honor of the victory of Andrew Jackson over the British at New Orleans, but Mr. Ashley, of Ohio, coolly informed the country that it "was played out," and the House sustained him in his insult to the memory of one of the Republic's most gallant defenders! This is the man who heads the movement to impeach the President of the United States!

☞Said the Philadelphia Press of Wednesday:

Thaddeus Stevens is now in Harrisburg. The members of the Legislature can see for themselves whether he is unfitted by years for the discharge of the high duties of a Senator in Congress.

Mr. Stevens, it seems, only went to Harrisburg to show himself to the members of the Legislature, notwithstanding his previous dignified refusal to mingle personally in the contest. Of course that is his own business, and if he chooses to dance a pirouette in the Senate chamber, or recite Shakspeare's Seven Ages in full at the Lochiel House, it is none of ours. It is evident that "the great commoner" is on the anxious bench, and, under the skilful management of his "friends," there is no telling what antics the young man may cut at Harrisburg.—Age.

☞The Radicals are in great distress. They elected a majority of the Legislature of this State, and consequently expect to elect a United States Senator. But, somehow or other, they are fearfully afraid of foul play, among themselves, and the most publishing charges of corruption are made by their own journals against their own leaders. So general have these charges become, that a week before the election is to take place the Senate and House of Representatives have seen fit to pass resolutions of purgation, and have raised committees of investigation to hear and determine the serious question!

☞It is known at Washington that there will be two reports from the New Orleans Investigating Committee. The minority report will exonerate the State authorities and the local government of New Orleans from all blame in connection with the unfortunate riot in that city. Sufficient evidence has been taken and will appear in the reports to show that the outbreak was not premeditated, but was simply the act of an irresponsible mob, which the authorities could not control.

☞Hon. Wm. H. Kemble, of Philadelphia, was re-elected State Treasurer by the Legislature on Wednesday last. The Democrats voted for John F. Spangler, of York.

☞In the State Senate, on Wednesday, Mr. Glatz presented a petition from citizens of Philadelphia asking that the bridge at Columbia be re-built.

☞John H. Surratt will arrive in this country about the last of January.

NEGRO SUFFRAGE IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

The President Vetoes, but a Radical Congress Passes the Measure by Two-thirds.

Negro suffrage has been FORCED upon the District of Columbia by a Radical Congress against the expressed will of its people!

During the last political campaign, Republican orators and editors persistently denied the charge that their party favored negro suffrage, and thus many were deceived into supporting their candidates. But no sooner is the election over, and Congress meets, than this odious measure is again urged, and passed, by the Republican majorities in both Houses.

The bill to confer the right of the ballot upon the swarms of negroes in the District of Columbia having been presented to the President, he, on Monday, returned it with a veto, giving his reasons at length for withholding his assent. The document contains many clear and powerful arguments. The following are its main points:

Entirely disregarding the wishes of the people of the District of Columbia, Congress has deemed it right and expedient to pass the measure now submitted for my signature. It, therefore, becomes the duty of the Executive, standing between the legislation of the one and the will of the other, fairly expressed, to determine whether he should approve the bill and thus aid in placing upon the statute-books of the nation a law against which the people to whom it is to apply have solemnly and with such unanimity protested, or whether he should return it with his objections, in the hope that upon reconsideration, Congress, acting as the representatives of the inhabitants of the seat of government, will permit them to regulate a purely local question, as to them may seem best suited to their interests and condition.

The District of Columbia was ceded to the United States by Maryland and Virginia, in order that it might become the permanent seat of government of the United States. Accepted by Congress it at once became subject to the "exclusive legislation" for which provision is made in the Federal Constitution. It should be borne in mind, however, that in exercising its functions as the law making power of the District of Columbia, the authority of the National Legislature is not without limit, but that Congress is bound to observe the letter and spirit of the Constitution, as well in the enactment of local laws for the seat of government, as in legislation common to the entire Union. Were it to be admitted that the right "to exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever," conferred upon Congress unlimited power within the District of Columbia, titles of nobility might be granted within its boundaries; laws might be made "respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the Government for redress of grievances." Despotism would thus reign at the seat of government of a free Republic, and, as a place of permanent residence, it would be avoided by all who prefer the blessings of liberty to the mere emoluments of official position.

It should also be remembered that in legislating for the District of Columbia, under the Federal Constitution, the relation of Congress to its inhabitants is analagous to that of a Legislature to the people of a State, under their own local Constitution. It does not, therefore, seem to be asking too much that, in matters pertaining to the District, Congress should have a like respect for the will and interests of its inhabitants as is entertained by a State Legislature for the wishes and prosperity of those for whom they legislate. The spirit of our Constitution and the genius of our government require that, in regard to any law which is to affect and have a permanent bearing upon a people, their will should exert at least a reasonable influence upon those who are acting in the capacity of their legislators. Would for instance, the Legislature of the States of New York or of Pennsylvania, or of Indiana, or of any State in the Union, in opposition to the expressed will of a large majority of the people whom they were chosen to represent arbitrarily force upon them, as voters, all persons of the African or negro race, and make them eligible for office without any other qualification than a certain term of residence within the State? In neither of the States named would the colored population, when acting together, be able to produce any great social or political result. Yet, in New York, before he can vote, the man of color must fulfill conditions that are not required of the white citizens; in Pennsylvania the elective franchise is restricted to white freemen; while in Indiana negroes and mulattoes are expressly excluded from the right of suffrage. It hardly seems consistent with the principles of right and justice that representatives of States where suffrage is either denied the colored man, or granted to him on qualifications requiring intelligence or property, should compel the people of the District of Columbia to try an experiment which their own constituents have thus far shown an unwillingness to test for themselves.

As a general rule, sound policy requires that the Legislature should yield to the wishes of a people, when not inconsistent with the Constitution and the laws. The measures suited to one community might not be well adapted to the condition of another; and the persons best qualified to determine such questions are those whose interests are directly affected by any proposed law. In Massachusetts, for instance, male persons are allowed to vote without regard to color, provided they possess a certain degree of intelligence. In a population in that State of 1,231,066 there were, by the census of 1860, only 9,602 persons of color, and of the males over twenty years of age, there 339,086 white to 2,602 colored. By the same official enumeration, there were in the District of Columbia 60,764 whites to 14,316 persons of the colored race. Since then, however, the population of the District has largely increased, and it is estimated that at the present time there are nearly a hundred thousand whites to thirty thousand negroes. The cause of the augmented numbers of the latter class needs no explanation. Contiguous to Maryland and Virginia, the District during the war, became a place of refuge for those who escaped from servitude, and it is yet the abiding place of a considerable proportion of those who sought within its limits a shelter from bondage. Until then held in slavery, and denied all opportunities for mental culture, their first knowledge of the Government was acquired when by conferring upon them freedom, it became the benefactor of their race; the test of their capability for improvement began, when, for the first time, the career of free industry and the avenues to intelligence were opened to them. Possessing these advantages but a limited time—the greater number perhaps having entered the District of Columbia during the latter years of the war or since its termination—we may well pause to inquire whether after so brief a probation, they are as a class capable of an intelligent exercise of the right of suffrage, and qualified to discharge the duties of official position. The people who are daily witnesses of their mode of living and who have become familiar with their habits of thought, have expressed the conviction that they are not yet competent to serve as electors, and thus become eligible for office in the local government under which they live. Clothed with the elective franchise, their numbers, already largely in excess of the demand for labor, would be soon increased by an influx from the adjoining States. Drawn from fields where employment is abundant, they would in vain seek it here, and so add to the embarrassments already experienced from the large class of idle persons congregated in the District. Hardly yet capable of forming correct judgments upon the important questions that often make the issues of a political contest, they could readily be made subservient to the purposes of designing persons. While in Massachusetts, under the census of 1860, the proportion of white to colored males over twenty years of age was one hundred and thirty to one, here the black race constitutes nearly one-third of the entire population, whilst the same class surrounds the District on all sides, ready to change their residence at a moment's notice, and with all the facility of a nomadic people, in order to enjoy here, after a short residence, a privilege they find nowhere else. It is within their power, in one year, to come into the District in such numbers as to have the supreme control of the white race, and to govern them by their own officers, and by the exercise of all the municipal authority—among the rest, of the power of taxation over property in which they have no interest. In Massachusetts, where they have enjoyed the benefits of a thorough educational system, a qualification of intelligence is required, while here suffrage is extended to all, without discrimination, as well to the most incapable, who can prove a residence in the District, of one year, as to those persons of color who, comparatively few in number, are permanent inhabitants, and having given evidence of merit and qualification, are recognized as useful and responsible members of the community. Imposed upon an unwilling people, placed, by the constitution, under the exclusive legislation of Congress, it would be viewed as an arbitrary exercise of power, and as an indication by the country of the purpose of Congress to compel the acceptance of negro suffrage by the States. It would engender a feeling of opposition and hatred between the two races, which, becoming deep rooted and ineradicable, would prevent them from living together in a state of mutual friendliness. * *

After full deliberation upon this measure, I cannot bring myself to approve it, even upon local considerations, nor yet as the beginning of an experiment on a larger scale. I yield to no one in attachment to that rule of general suffrage which distinguishes our policy as a nation. But there is a limit, wisely observed hitherto, which makes the ballot a privilege and a trust, and which requires of some classes a time suitable for probation and preparation. To give it indiscriminately to a new class, wholly unprepared, by previous habits and opportunities, to perform the trust which it demands, is to degrade it, and finally to destroy its power; for it may be safely assumed that no political truth is better established than that such indiscriminate and all-embracing extension of popular suffrage must end at last in its destruction.

The action of the President in refusing to sign the obnoxious bill is in full accord with the wish of nearly every white man in the District, and yet the Radicals in both Houses have enacted it into a law, by two-thirds votes.

"Can such things be" in a country of white freemen? Surely Radicalism cannot long rule at such a pace. The popular judgment must, ere long, crush it. The people will not be forever blind.

THE SALE OF DARKIES IN MARYLAND.

Much noise has lately been made by the Radical press about the sale of several colored people in Maryland under a decree of court, after conviction, for crimes. One of the darkies—Dick Harris—was found guilty of stealing beef, and sentenced to be sold for six months. Not being a very valuable woolen fabric, he was bought in by his brother for $50, and he is now working at Annapolis for $8 per week. Had he been a white man, the law would have required a sentence of from one to fifteen years in the penitentiary. None of the other blacks who were sold brought so high a figure.

The law under which these sales were made was passed by a legislature composed of a majority of the present Radicals of Maryland, and approved by the Radical Governor Bradford. In the Senate it received every vote except two, and the vote in the House stood 48 to 6. One of the two votes against it in the Senate was that of Mr. Heckert, who had just before been confined upon a charge of disloyalty. The same legislature which passed the bill, also passed the "treason bill," and the "defence loan bill," which put the "loyal" stamp upon its character beyond question. If, therefore, there is anything wrong about "the revival of slavery in Maryland" it is surely to be laid at the door of the Radical league house.

Whilst sympathising with the black thieves of Maryland, however, in their sad fate of being "sold into slavery," for six months, the Radical "grand moral idea" people and press of Pennsylvania forget that out in Missouri the Radical Legislature lately passed a law requiring white vagrants (persons out of employment) to be sold to the highest bidder. We have seen no editorial comments upon the fact that, under that law, some six vagrants were, a few days ago, sold by a court at St. Louis for six months. Is it worse, in Radical estimation, to sell a nigger beef thief for six months than to sell a white man for the same period for no other crime than being an idle loafer? Such seems to be the truth. Will some Radical organ tell us why it is so? asks the Patriot & Union.

☞Mr. Ashley, of Ohio, who is figuring with such prominence in the impeachment programme, was two or three years ago assailed by leading men of his own party, in his immediate Congressional district, for corruption in procuring appointments. It was charged that he traded in that business, and not a few letters written by him in relation to different appointments were adduced to support the charge. And yet, with such a record, Mr. Ashley rises in his place in the House and impeaches the President for "high crimes and misdemeanors," among which is the "corrupt use of the appointing power!" The honest men of the land can appreciate the motives which induce a man with such a record as that of Mr. Ashley to malign and traduce the President.

☞The people of the District of Columbia, some months ago, decided against negro suffrage by a vote of 7,369 to 36. The Harrisburg Telegraph denounces the President's veto of the measure as "Andrew Johnson's last blow at Civilization and Freedom." This blow consists in the endeavor to carry out the principle that the majority should rule—and in preventing the Rump Congress from making the wishes of thirty-six individuals superior to those of over seven thousand. Is it "civilization" to force negro suffrage upon 7,369 voters at the request of 36?

THE 8TH OF JANUARY.

The 8th of January, the anniversary of Gen. Jackson's victory over the British at New Orleans, was celebrated by the Conservatives at Washington in a truly patriotic style. A grand banquet was had in the evening, the venerable Francis P. Blair presiding. At 9 o'clock the President of the United States entered the hall, and was received with cheers, the waving of handkerchiefs, and music by the band. After a toast to the day, the health of the President was proposed. On rising President Johnson was again applauded. He said it was not his purpose to make a speech, but simply to propose a sentiment, which was read, as follows:

No State, of its own will, has a right, under the Constitution, to renounce its place in, or to withdraw from the Union. Nor has the Congress of the United States a constitutional power to degrade the people of any State by reducing them to the condition of a mere territorial dependency upon the Federal head. The one is a disruption—a dissolution of the government; the other is a consolidation and an extreme of despotic power. The advocates of the latter are also the enemies of the Union and of our constitutional form of government.

The sentiment was received with long and loud cheers.

The occasion was, all in all, a very significant one. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette writes as follows of what was said at the banquet:

I see you have published the toast President Johnson gave, and his brief prefatory remarks. I could give but a faint idea of the effect they produced upon the audience, were I to attempt it. At no time since his elevation to the Presidency has he given such decided evidence that he may be fully trusted in any emergency, and that he may be found equal to the task of meeting the dangers that threaten the country. His presence seemed to inspire the speakers with a spirit which has been quite unusual for the past few years. It would be invidious to particularize, but I may, with propriety, say that the speeches of Messrs. Black, Cowan, Doolittle, Morrick and Rogers exhibited a tone far different from the timid and truckling elocution indulged in of late by the opponents of Congressional usurpation. In impassioned and emphatic language, the President was pointedly told by these gifted orators, that upon the first attempt of the plotters at the Capitol to carry their infamous insurrectionary projects into practical effect, they would look to him as Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy, to exercise his functions to their full extent, and that they could, after the occurrences of this evening rely with renewed and undoubting assurance on his determination to do his full duty.

Mr. Cowan, in portraying the monstrous violations of the Constitution already perpetrated by Congress in expelling members avowedly to secure sufficient majorities in refusing representatives to ten States, whose right to seats was as clear as those of Massachusetts, and in hundreds of other usurpations, frequently paused to ask—What then? What is the remedy? What is to be done? These usurpations—these practical violations of the Constitution, he contended, were as gross as those committed by Cromwell when he "purged the House of Commons." "They called," he said, "for practical redress"—and eyeing the President steadfastly for a moment, he continued, "and the means of this redress cannot be found in speeches, however eloquent and logical, in conventions, however numerously or harmoniously attended, or in banquets, however splendidly supplied—but in practical action, in firmness and in courage."

Judge Black, in responding to the toast complimentary to the Supreme Court, delivered a glowing eulogium upon its members, but "disdained to defend it against its assailants." He declared that Milligan and the other parties whose cases were decided by that tribunal were as innocent as angels of the crimes charged upon them, as the evidence conclusively showed, but that, nevertheless, if the Executive had not interposed, and so enabled them to bring the great question before the Court, they would have been murdered by order of the commission instituted to try them. Judge B. did not hesitate to class Holt with Conover and his associates—and to compare them to Oates, Dangerfield and Bedloe, and he warned the revilers of the highest judicial tribunal in the land, in and out of Congress, of the fate of those miscreants who, within a year of their unbounded power, were tied to the tail of a cart and whipped through London amid the shouts of their former ignorant and misguided dupes. Judge B. also made the astounding disclosure that within eighteen months Thaddeus Stevens, who now denounces the decision of the Court, declared to him (Judge Black) that the military courts and commissions, then in full blast, had, in his opinion, no more legal authority to try parties outside the army and navy than so many mobs gathered from the through fares of our cities by irresponsible parties.

An interesting fact was brought to light by Hon. Montgomery Blair during the delivery of his spirited speech.

"I mean (said he) to commit a breach of confidence here to-night. I want to read you a telegraphic despatch. Here it is from Andrew Johnson to Montgomery Blair, in the year of our Lord 1863.

"NASHVILLE, Nov. 24, 1863.

["Received Washington, Nov. 25, 1863. To the Hon. Montgomery Blair, Postmaster General. Marked confidential."]

"I hope the President will not be committed to the proposition of States relapsing into Territories, and hold them as such. If he steers clear of this extreme his election to the Presidency is without a reasonable doubt. I expected to have been in Washington before this time, when we could have conversed fully and freely in reference to the policy to be adopted by the Government.

"But it has been impossible for me to leave Nashville. I will be there soon. The institution of slavery is gone, and there is no good reason now for destroying the States to bring about the destruction of slavery. ANDREW JOHNSON."

Mr. Blair continued: "That message was delivered by me to the President, November 26, 1863. Is it not a matter of history? Did not every man who hears my voice know that advice was adopted—a reconstruction adopted and proceeded upon by Abraham Lincoln upon the doctrine laid down in that despatch? And now his successor, who gave him the advice he carried out, is to be impeached for a faithful adherence to the doctrines, principles and practice which Abraham Lincoln was elected upon, which he practiced in his lifetime, and which Mr. Johnson, as an honest and faithful man, is struggling to carry out! Do not despair. No, my friends; that great popular power, that deep set love of country and the Constitution, written in the heart of every American, will arise and stand around Andrew Johnson while he fulfils the mission of Abraham Lincoln."

☞Hon. Henry Logan died at his residence, in Carroll township, York county, on the 26th ult., aged about 83 years. He served in Congress two terms, in the State Senate five years, in the House three years, and was County Commissioner two years.

☞A fire in Galesburg, Illinois, on Sunday, burned more than half a block of business buildings, including the candy factory of Wells & Townsend, Allen's meat market, Loel's music store, Calver's store, etc. The total loss is $50,000.

TOWN AND COUNTY AFFAIRS.

ADAMS COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The Rare hereafter to be held at Gettysburg.—At the annual election for officers of the Adams County Agricultural Society, at Bendersville, on Monday last, the following ticket was elected, with very little opposition:

President, Samuel Herbst.
Vice Presidents, Hon. Wm. McSherry, J. S. Witherow.
Recording Secretary, E. G. Fahnestock.
Corresponding Secretary, H. J. Stahle.
Treasurer, Jonas Quanzahn.
Managers, Wm. B. Wilson, Elisha Penrose, Wm. Wible, Jno. H. McClellan, David Wills.

The next annual meeting and election to be held in Gettysburg.

The new Board met in this place on Friday last, for the transaction of business. Among other proceedings was the unanimous passage of a resolution fixing Gettysburg as the point for the future Exhibitions of the Society. The Board also in a body viewed the several sites suggested for the Fair grounds, and after due deliberation decided in favor of High street, half a square west of Washington, embracing lots of Peter Thorn, John Chrismer, Frederick Ridgely and Michael Bushman, in all between twelve and thirteen acres. A committee was appointed to make the purchases, which was done on Saturday, the prices averaging a little over one hundred dollars per acre.

It is to be hoped that the citizens of the entire county will take a lively interest in this matter, and make the Fairs what they should be—not only successful, but a credit to the agricultural and mechanical enterprise of its people. We shall allude to the subject again.

PROPERTY SALES.—Philip Redding, Esq., has sold the house and lot on High street adjoining the Catholic Church, in this place, to John Hennigh, at $1,675, cash.

John G. Frey has purchased a two-story weatherboarded house, in York street, from Jacob Brinkerhoff, for $1,250, cash.

The heirs of Andrew White, deceased, have sold 320 acres of unimproved land in Logan county, Illinois, for $4,400 cash.

John F. Felty, Esq., as Administrator, recently sold the house and lot of John Cassatt, deceased, in Straban township, at $595—Ephraim Shull, purchaser.

BANK ELECTIONS.—The following gentlemen were elected Directors of the two Banks in this place on Tuesday last:

Gettysburg National.—George Swope, Wm. D. Hines, James J. Wills, David Kendlehart, Lewis M. Motter, Marcus Samson, Henry Wirt, Wm. McSherry, Wm. Young.

First National.—George Throne, Wm. Culp, Robert Bell, John Brough, D. McConaughy, John Horner, George Arnold.

MASONIC.—The following named persons having been elected for the ensuing Masonic year, were duly installed on the 27th ult:

R. H. Thomas, of Mechanicsburg, has been appointed District Deputy Grand Master for Cumberland, Adams and Franklin.

BENEFICIAL.—At the last meeting of the Gettysburg Beneficial Association the following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year: President, H. J. Stahle; Vice President, Henry Rupp; Secretary, R. G. Harper; Treasurer, J. B. Danner; Loan Committee, H. D. Wattles, N. Codori and Jer. Culp.

☞Cayugas Tribe, No. 31, Independent Order of Red Men, of this place, had their annual supper, at Ilgenfritz's, on Friday evening week. We learn that the affair was a very pleasant one, and highly creditable to the liberality of the Tribe. They have our thanks for an invitation to participate, but other prior engagements prevented. The Tribe is in a growing and prosperous condition, we are told.

COURT.—The January term of Court will commence next Monday. We are informed that there will be a considerable amount of business brought before it.

The occurrence of Court is always a good time to send money to the printer, and when he gets but little, it is a severe disappointment to him. He calculates to make his heaviest payments with what ought then to come in, and when his calculations fail, it requires hard scratching to get along. This is our experience, and the experience of every country printer. We hope, therefore, that those in arrears will avail themselves of the opportunities that will offer next week to give us "a lift."

☞Rev. Mr. Carnahan, of the Presbyterian Church, received through the Post Office, a New Year's present of one hundred dollars. The ladies of the congregation presented Mrs. Carnahan with a beautiful writing desk worth thirty dollars.

PORK.—The pork market in this place was unusually brisk last week—the ruling price $8. About 30,000 pounds are shipped to Baltimore during the week—an extraordinarily large amount.

☞Mr. James Reaver, of Mount Joy township, recently slaughtered a hog 16 months old, which weighed 445 pounds. That's worth "bragging" about.

☞Messrs. Roth & Stock are about erecting a Machine Shop and Foundry at New Oxford. Seven new buildings were erected in that place last summer, and a number more will go up in the spring.

☞A large black mare was stolen from Mr. George Fidler, near Heidlesburg, on the night of the 24th of December. He offers $30 for the thief and $20 for the mare.

☞The rapidly increasing circulation of the COMPILER makes it especially valuable to advertisers. All interested should make a note of this, and act accordingly.

☞The bill to incorporate the Littlestown Savings Institution has passed both Houses.

☞The Democratic State Central Committee will meet in Harrisburg on the 29th inst., on business of importance.

☞Hon. Isaac Newton, Commissioner of Agriculture, and Hon. A. J. Glossbrenner, M. C., have placed us under obligations for agricultural documents. We are also indebted to Mr. Heltzel, for legislative favors.

CURE FOR FROSTED LIMBS.—It is announced that frosted limbs are permanently relieved by one or two applications of boiled lye of wood ashes made so strong as to be quite slippery between the fingers. This lye should settle, be drained off, and have a large handful of common salt to each quart of lye mixed with it. It should be quite warm and the limbs be submerged for one or two hours.

CURE FOR A COLD, A. D., 1440.—
Putte your feete in hot water,
As high as your thighes,
Wrappe your head up in flannelle,
As low as your eyes;
Take a quart of rummie'd gruelle,
When in bedde, as a dose,
With a lumber four dippe
Well allow your nose.

☞At the caucus of the Democratic members of the Legislature, on Wednesday afternoon, Hon. Edgar Cowan, the eminent Conservative, was unanimously declared their nominee for United States Senator. He will, therefore, receive the full Democratic vote to-morrow. Senator Wallace had a number of warm friends in the caucus, but he declined the intended compliment in favor of Mr. Cowan.

☞The Rump Senate on the 7th passed the District negro suffrage bill over the President's veto by a vote of yeas 28, nays 10; absent or not voting 13. On the 8th (what a desecration of a memorable anniversary!) the Rump House passed the same by a vote of yeas 113, nays 38—a strict party vote. Will the constituents of the Pennsylvania Radical members, who voted in a body for the bill, endorse this outrage upon the people of the District of Columbia?

☞The negroes of Dr. O. B. Marly, of Memphis, returned to him last week and claimed and received their former situations. Lured off by Bureau agents, they stated that they had been told they must work for $3 a month, which left them the alternative either to steal, starve, or go back to their master.

☞Old Thad. Stevens says he means "to throw Greek fire at traitors as long as he lives." The old wretch makes a mistake—it is not Greek fire which he throws but suffocating Chinese stink pots.

☞The York Press says "Stagnation is death;" and declares that "the Democratic party must become aggressive." We like that. We hope our cotemporaries will all act on it, and "pitch in without gloves." Somebody must be hurt before things and times can be made better.

☞Blank Mortgages can be had at this office, as well as all other blanks.

Special Notice Column.

To Owners of Horses.

Thousands of Horses die yearly from Colic, This need not be. Dr. Tobias' Venitian Horse Liniment will positively cure every case, if given when first taken. The cost is only one dollar. Every owner of a horse should have a bottle in his stable, ready for use. It is warranted superior to anything else for the cure of Cuts, Wind Galls, Swellings, Sore Throat, Sprains, Bruises, Old Sores, &c. This Liniment is no new remedy. It has been used and approved of for 18 years by the first horsemen in the country. Given to an overdriven horse, it acts like magic. Orders are constantly received from the racing stables of England for it. The celebrated Hiram Woodruff, of trotting fame, has used it for years, and says it is far superior to any other he has tried. He kindly permits me to refer to him. His address is East New York, Long Island. Recollect, Dr. Tobias' Venitian Horse Liniment is put up in pint bottles. Take no other. Sold by the Druggists and Saddlers. Depot, 56 Courtlandt Street, New York. [Jan. 7, 1867. 7w

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other expectorant is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies flaunt upon the community have fallen and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

We can only assure the public, that its quality is carefully kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on up to their relief, all that it has ever done.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen, and eminent personages, have left their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of our remedies, but space here will not permit the insertion of the list. The Agents below named furnish gratis our American Almanac in which they are given, with also full descriptions of the complaints they cure.

Those who require an ALTERATIVE MEDICINE to purify the blood will find AYER'S COMP. EXT. SARSAPARILLA the remedy to use. Try it once, and you will know its value.

No Brandy, &c.

Plain questions demand plain answers. Should the ASIATIC CHOLERA prevail among us, why prescribe Radway's Ready Relief in preference to other prescriptions? Simply, because it is an astringent, an invigorant, a preventive against the malaria, and contains no brandy, rhubarb, opium, calomel, nor deleterious drugs. It is a vegetable tonic, and the instantaneous operation of the Relief renders it the most valuable of all known remedies for all malarious diseases which suddenly strike at the main channels of vital action. To protect the system, thirty drops of the Relief in a wine glass of water, three times a day, will prove (as in thousands of cases in 1866) a infallible preventive. In all the acute diseases, like diphtheria, the Relief always conquers. Those afflicted with Neuralgia, one of the most agonizing complaints known, can depend upon its efficacy when used as an external counter irritant, and an internal stimulant. For Cramps, also for Spasms, Headache, Rheumatism, Pains in the Loins, Feet, Joints, if applied over the part in parts, will afford immediate relief. No family should be without it. It never fails to effect relief, and a permanent cure.

Sold by Druggists. Price 50 cents per bottle.

Important Qualities.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS so stimulate all the interior powers of the system that every poison or impurity is forced from the blood into the bowels, and thus passes off. Recent cases of sickness will often be cured by the effect of 6 or 8 Brandreth's Pills, which, when the operation is full and complete, leave the blood as free from poisonous and unheal

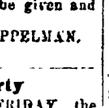
AT PUBLIC SALE.—On FRIDAY, the 25th day of JANUARY, 1867, the undersigned will offer at Public Sale, on the premises, in Tyrone township, Adams county, Pa., his VALUABLE PROPERTY, situate on the road leading from Heidlersburg to East Berlin, about one mile from the former place, adjoining lands of William Spangler and others, containing about 30 ACRES, more or less. The improvements are a one and a half story LOG HOUSE, and a good Stable of large size, with a never-failing well of water at the door. There is a first-rate garden, and the land is all in a high state of cultivation. There is about 2 acres of Timber, and a sufficient quantity of Meadow land. There is a variety of fruit on the premises. The fences are in good order. The property is conveniently located to Markets, Schools, Churches, &c., and is one of the most desirable properties in the county.



Persons wishing to view the property will call on the undersigned, residing thereon.

Sale to commence at 1 o'clock, P. M., on said day, when attendance will be given and terms made known by

GEORGE DAUGHERTY.

Teas! Teas! Teas!

TEAS! TEAS! TEAS!

TEAS! TEAS! TEAS!

WHOLESALED AT 5 PER CENT. above actual cost of importation.

We take pleasure in offering to the trade the following popular TEAS, in original and 30 pound packages. Our prices will be found lower than those of any other house in the trade, with the exception, however, of those who make it a business to buy and sell stained and otherwise damaged Teas, and palm them off as sound. We warrant our Teas sound and straight, and dead in no others, and dealers, to be convinced of this, need only give us a trial. We sell our Teas at the small advance of 5 per cent. on the actual cost of importation, believing that large trade with small profits is more advantageous to us as well as to the public. We are selling the following

TEAS IN ORIGINAL PACKAGES.

OOLONG, 85, 95, $1 10, $1 20 per pound.

SOUCHONG, 80, 85, 95, $1 00, $1 10, $1 20 per pound.

YOUNG HYSON, 85, $1 00, $1 10, $1 20, $1 40, $1 50, $1 70 per pound.

GUNPOWDER, $1 25, $1 35, $1 45, $1 55, $1 75 per pound.

Also, Twankay, Hyson Skin, Japan and other Teas, under the going market prices.

In order that buyers may readily compute the amount of funds to be remitted in ordering packages of Teas, we would state Young Hyson averages 45 pounds to the package; Oolong, 40 pounds; Souchong, 45 pounds; Gunpowder, 70 pounds.

To enable buyers who wish to keep the different lines of Teas, but have not a trade to warrant their buying full packages, we have, for their accommodation, put up the following original Teas in

30 POUND PACKAGES,

And sell these packages as follows:

OOLONG, $25 50, $28 50, $33 and $36 per package.

SOUCHONG, $24, $25 50, $28 50, $30, $33 and $36 per package.

YOUNG HYSON, $25 50, $30, $33, $36, $42, $45 and $51 per package.

GUNPOWDER, $37 50, $40 50, $43 50, $46 50 and $54 50 per package.

We warrant all our Teas as represented, and if parties are not perfectly satisfied that the Teas purchased of us are cheaper than they can buy elsewhere, they can be returned within thirty days, at our expense, and the money will be refunded.

LEWIS KUMMERANT has re-commenced the TAILORING business, in Chambersburg street, between Washington and West streets, Gettysburg, and asks a share of the custom of the public. His long experience in the business enables him to guarantee good fits and good work, whilst the latest fashions will be consulted in cutting whenever desired. No effort will be spared to render satisfaction, and he feels sure that all who patronize him will be satisfied. His prices for work are as low as they can possibly be to afford him an economical living, and no one could in reason ask them to be any less. He asks his old friends to give him a call, as well as the public generally.

GRAIN AND GROCERIES.

Having purchased the extensive Warehouse, Cars, &c, heretofore owned by Samuel Herbst, we beg leave to inform the public that we are continuing the business at the old stand on the corner of Washington and Railroad streets, on a more extensive scale than heretofore.

We are paying the highest market price for Flour, Grain and all kinds of produce.

Flour and Feed, Salt, and all kinds of Groceries, kept constantly on hand and for sale, cheaper than they can be had anywhere else.

Plaster, and all kinds of fertilizers, constantly on hand, or furnished to order.

☞A regular line of Freight Cars will leave our Warehouse every TUESDAY MORNING, and accommodation trains will be run as occasion may require. By this arrangement we are prepared to convey Freight at all times to and from Baltimore. All business of this kind entrusted to us, will be promptly attended to. Our cars run to the Warehouse of Stevenson & Sons, 135 North Howard street, Baltimore. Being determined to pay good prices, sell cheap and deal fairly, we invite everybody to give us a call.

THE BEST IN THE MARKET.

THE VICTOR SORGO MILL.

Over Five thousand of these Mills have been made and sold in the last three years. The best recommendations can be given.

Also—COOK'S EVAPORATOR, for making Sugar and Molasses, said to be the best in use.

CORN CRUSHERS.

Three different sizes for grinding Corn in the ear, or shelled—or any other kind of grain. This is a machine that every farmer should have, as a bushel of ground feed is equal to a bushel and a half unground. The high price of feed of all kinds makes an imperative demand for some kind of machinery by which to save. It is a rapid grinder and durable.

BELLS FOR CHURCHES,

SCHOOLS, FARM HOUSES, FOUNDRIES, &c. Made of the best steel composition. Church Bells insured for one year.

WILLOUGHBY'S GUM SPRING DRILL,

WITH CROWELL'S GUANO ATTACHMENT. This is considered one of the best Drills now in use. It will distribute any kind of grain evenly, and sow from one bushel up to three to the acre. The Guano Attachment has given entire satisfaction wherever used. It is so constructed as not to clog in sowing any kind of Phosphates or Bone Meal. Having sold a number of these machines last season, I can fully recommend them to be what they are represented. Persons wishing to buy should make application early as the supply is small and the demand great.

F. K. SMITH'S CAST STEEL PLOUGHS.

First, It is the only Plough yet produced that will invariably scour in any soil.

Second, It is now an established fact that It will last from three to six times longer than any other steel plough in use.

Third, It draws lighter than any other Plough, cutting the same width and depth of furrow.

The different parts of the Plough are cast in moulds, into the exact shape desired for the mould-boards, shares and land-sides, giving the parts most exposed to wear any desired thickness. The shares can be sharpened by any blacksmith. The steel is perfectly malleable and works kindly. Edge tools have been made out of pieces of the plough by blacksmiths all over the country.

Sewing Machines.

THE GROVER & BAKER.—THE BEST IN USE. These Machines have become so well known that little need be said by way of recommendation. They have taken the first premium at all the late State Fairs, and are universally acknowledged to be the BEST in use by all who have tried them. The "Grover & Baker Stitch" and the "Shuttle Stitch" are points that have been attained by no other Machine. They are the only machines that sew and embroider with perfection. These Machines are peculiarly adapted to Family use. They are almost noiseless, sew directly from the spool without rewinding, and are simple in their construction. They are easy to manage, and can be worked by almost any child. Every family should have one. They save labor, they save time, and they save money, and do their work better than it can be done by hand.

The undersigned having been appointed Agent for the above Machines, has established an Agency in Fairfield, Adams county, where he will always have on hand a supply. Persons wishing to buy will please call and examine for themselves.

DEMAND J. W. BRADLEY'S CELEBRATED PATENT DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (OR DOUBLE SPRING)

SKIRT.

THE WONDERFUL FLEXIBILITY and great COMFORT and PLEASURE to any lady wearing the DUPLEX ELLIPTIC SKIRT will be experienced particularly in all crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a Silk or Muslin Dress, an invaluable quality in crinoline, not found in any Single Spring Skirt.

A lady having enjoyed the PLEASURE, COMFORT, and great CONVENIENCE of wearing the DUPLEX ELLIPTIC STEEL SPRING SKIRT for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.

They will not bend or break like the Single Spring, but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary Skirts will have been thrown aside as useless. The Hoops are covered with double and twisted thread, and the bottom rods are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered, preventing them from wearing out when dragging down steps, stairs, &c.

The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies and is universally recommended by the Fashion Magazines as the STANDARD SKIRT OF THE FASHIONABLE WORLD.

To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in Crinoline, viz: superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape, & finish, flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, enquire for J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic, or Double Spring Skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.

CAUTION.—To guard against IMPOSITION be particular to NOTICE the skirts offered as "DUPLEX" have the red ink stamp, viz: "J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic Steel Springs," upon the waistband—none others are genuine. Also Notice that every Hoop will admit a pin being passed through the centre, thus revealing the two (or double) springs braided together therein, which is the secret of their flexibility and strength, and a combination not to be found in any other skirt.

FOR SALE in all Stores where FIRST CLASS skirts are sold throughout the United States and elsewhere.

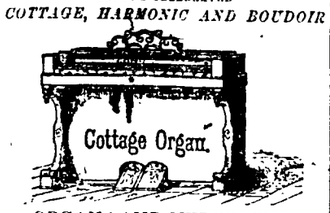
ESTEY'S CELEBRATED

COTTAGE, HARMONIC AND BOUDOIR



ORGANS AND MELODEONS.

These Instruments stand unrivalled by any thing found in this Country or in Europe, as is admitted by all impartial judges. The most eminent Pipe Organ Builders and Performers, the last to discover excellence in reed Tone, pronounce them vastly superior to all others for exceedingly quick articulation and round Tone, the essential feature in instruments of this class. We invite the severe scrutiny and criticism of all.

PATENT VOX HUMANA TREMOLO.

This late and most wonderful invention (so acknowledged by all leading artists) will be found only in the Estey Instruments. In attempting to describe the effect of this stop, we are at loss for language. Its beauties cannot be written, but must be heard to be appreciated. By this stop an ordinary performer can produce an effect which requires a lifetime of practice for an artist upon a violin. It entirely changes the reed Tone, giving the sympathetic sweetness of the human voice, making it so melodious and pure that it never fails to enchant the listener.

THE HARMONIC ORGAN

for Churches, Public Halls and Parlors has a powerful sub-Bass with independent reeds, Harmonic attachment and Vox Humana Tremolo, and is believed to be the most powerful reed organ made, being nearly equal to a Pipe Organ of three times the cost.

All instruments warranted for five years.

THE attention of the public is invited to the claims of

as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic party of the United States, and the foremost advocate of the immediate restoration of the Union. Its highest merit consists in its character as An Enterprising and Trustworthy Newspaper.

The next year bids fair to be a more critical one in the history of our free institutions than even any of the eventful ones that have preceded it. The first requisite for an intelligent judgment of public affairs is a full and authentic account of facts as they transpire. These THE WORLD always aims to give with conscientious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity whether they make for or against its own views of public policy. Prompt activity in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interest, is the first duty of a newspaper; and the facilities of The World for discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, spirit, freshness, abundance, variety, accuracy, and candor, that no class of readers can miss anything of interest which they wish to find.

The Weekly World, a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, is now printed throughout in large type, and has the largest circulation of any weekly journal published, save one.

A Lecture to Young Men.

JUST published, in a sealed envelope.—Price 6 cents. A Lecture on the nature, treatment and radical cure of Spermatorhœa, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Emissions, Sexual Debility and Impediments to Marriage generally. Nervousness, Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits; Mental and Physical incapacity, resulting from Self-Abuse, &c. By Robert J. Culverwell, M. D., author of the "Green Book," &c.

The world renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves, from his own experience, that the awful consequences of Self Abuse may be effectually removed without Medicine, and without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings, or cordials, pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically. This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands. Sent under seal to any address, in a plain, sealed envelope, on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps. A (Bitter) Acrostic.

RESPECTFULLY Dedicated to the Proprietor of the Great Zingari, by a late Dyspeptic.

Far away from the pyramids of Egypt he came,
Restoring the sick, and healing the lame;
A cure for the cholera, that dreadful disease;
Heaven sent him on earth the dyspeptic to ease.
There are those who were troubled with fever and chills,
E'en they took but one bottle and were cured of their ills,
Resolved that in future, if ever they shake,
Such pleasant, nice Bitters—no other they take.
Get a bottle if troubled with nervous debility;
Rahter says it will cure; just try its ability.
Essence of life, then, to young and to old;
A certain preventive from coughs and colds.
Try it all, who are troubled with a weak appetite,
Zest is given by these (Bitters), if only used right;
In scrofula, colic, or a bad diarrhœa,
None who've tried it of either have any more fear.
Great tidings is this, then, for rich and for poor;
A bottle can be had for a dollar (and more—
Rahter gives it to those unable to pay).
In no case of sickness will he turn them away.

F. RAHTER'S GREAT ZINGARI.

WHAT THE ZINGARI BITTERS HAVE DONE.—We publish the following for the benefit of the afflicted everywhere:

"I suffered for a long time of Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, and frequent attacks of Liver Complaint. Often the sufferings were so great that life was almost intolerable. I tried several eminent physicians, and most of the popular remedies recommended for such complaints, but found little relief until a few weeks ago I commenced the use of F. Rahter's Great Zingari Bitters, and am now perfectly cured." HENRY HULL.

Harrisburg City, Pa., Sept. 8, 1866.

Personally appeared the above named Henry Hull, and made oath in due form that the facts are true as above stated.

SUGAR CURED HAMS.—A fresh supply just received. A prime article and for sale cheap by STRICKHOUSER & WISOTZKEY.

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP

IS A PROTECTED SOLUTION OF THE

Protoxide of Iron,

a new discovery in medicine which STRIKES AT THE ROOT OF DISEASE, by supplying the Blood with its VITAL PRINCIPLE, OR LIFE ELEMENT—IRON.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing

DYSPEPSIA, LIVER COMPLAINT, DROPSY, CHRONIC DIARRHŒA, BOILS, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Disease of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in A BAD STATE OF THE BLOOD, or accompanied by DEBILITY, or a LOW STATE OF THE SYSTEM.

Being free from Alcohol in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an IRON CONSTITUTION.

DYSPEPSIA AND DEBILITY.

From the Venerable Archdeacon Scott, D. D.
DURHAM, Canada East, March 24, 1865.

* * * "I am an inveterate Dyspeptic of more than 25 years' standing."

* * * "I have been so wonderfully benefitted in the three short weeks during which I have used the Peruvian Syrup, that I can scarcely persuade myself of the reality. People who have known me are astonished at the change. I am widely known, and can but recommend to others that which has done so much for me."

One of the most DISTINGUISHED JURISTS in New England writes to a friend as follows:

"I have tried the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and the result fully sustains your prediction. It has made a NEW MAN of me; infused into my system new vigor and energy; I am no longer tremulous and debilitated, as when you last saw me, but stronger, heartier, and with larger capacity for labor, mental and physical, than at any time during the last five years."

An EMINENT DIVINE of Boston, says:

"I have been using the PERUVIAN SYRUP for some time past; it gives me new vigor, buoyancy of spirits, elasticity of muscle."

☞ THOUSANDS have been changed by the use of this remedy; from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

A pamphlet of 32 pages, containing certificates of cures and recommendations from some of the most eminent physicians, clergymen, and others, will be sent FREE to any address.

☞ See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

SEYMOUR THATCHER, M. D.,
of Herman, N. Y., writes as follows:

"WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY gives universal satisfaction. It seems to cure a Cough by loosening and cleansing the lungs, and allaying irritation, thus REMOVING THE CAUSE, instead of drying up the cough and leaving the cause behind. I consider the Balsam as good as any, if not the best, Cough medicine with which I am acquainted."

The Rev. JACOB SECHLER, of Hanover, Pa., well known and much respected among the German population of this country, makes the following statement for the benefit of the afflicted:

Dear Sirs:—Having realized in my family important benefits from the use of your valuable preparation—WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY—it affords me pleasure to recommend it to the public. Some eight years ago one of my daughters seemed to be in a decline, and little hopes of her recovery were entertained. I then procured a bottle of your excellent Balsam, and before she had taken the whole of the contents of the bottle there was a great improvement in her health. I have, in my individual case, made frequent use of your valuable medicine, and have always been benefitted by it.

NEW FIRM,

AT THE OLD STAND.

[ESTABLISHED IN 1817.]

I have associated with me, in business, my son, John F. McCreary, under the firm and style of D. McCreary & Son, and I desire to say to my old friends and the public generally that since the war, the manufacture of Saddles, Harness, Collars, &c., has been revived at the old established and well known stand on Baltimore street, one square south of the Court House, Gettysburg, Pa.

Having had an experience of 40 years in this establishment, I feel assured, that, with renewed attention to business, we can still further merit and receive a full share of public patronage. DAVID McCREARY.

With increased facilities for conducting our business, we are better prepared than ever to satisfy the wants of all those who may need anything in our line. We especially call the attention of Farmers and others to the superior quality of our
